1. OVERVIEW OF PROGRAM

The WRMC is a collaboration between NOLS, Outward Bound USA, and the Student Conservation Association in partnership with the WRMC Steering Committee. Volunteers will work alongside Steering Committee members and staff to host over 500+ wilderness risk management leaders and professionals at the 31st Annual Conference, October 15-17, 2024, in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Volunteers will:

- meet and connect with industry experts and researchers
- work closely with a remarkable team of volunteers
- build lasting relationships with colleagues and mentors
- get a behind-the-scenes look at the WRMC
- receive discounted conference registration
- have the opportunity to attend sessions and events

Volunteering with WRMC is an extraordinary professional development and networking opportunity!
2. GENERAL VOLUNTEER TASK DESCRIPTIONS

Workshop “Classroom” Support

- 1–2 volunteers per workshop
- Monitor room for comfort
- Door greeter
- Arrive 5–10 minutes prior to workshop start
- Count and report number of attendees
- Usher attendees into seats
- Help clear out the room post-workshop

Presenter Support

- Assist presenter with launching presentation
- Provide audiovisual assistance
- Perform microphone checks
- Pass out materials
- Notify Volunteer Coordinator or Audiovisual Coordinator of any major concerns or support needs

Conference Check-In

Break & Meal Support

- At meal times, volunteers may be helping with traffic flow, collecting tickets, or other traffic control tasks.
General Sessions Support (Opening, Keynote, Structured Networking)

- Volunteers help with traffic control, directing, and ushering. You’ll welcome and usher people toward the front.

Expanded Volunteer Roles

Survey Prize Giveaways Team

- Two volunteers
- Coordinate the prize giveaways program (in addition to other volunteer tasks).
- The prize giveaways are intended to encourage attendees to submit feedback surveys and involve creating a fair and confidential system of random selection from those who have completed surveys

Audiovisual (AV) Coordinator

- Provide specific AV Support for presenters and other volunteers.
- The AV Coordinator position requires expertise and interest for this fast-paced, technical role.

Pre-Conference Support Team

- Arrive October 14th or early 15th to support with setup and pre-conference check-in
3. VOLUNTEER PERKS

We are always seeking ways to improve our Volunteer Team’s experience at the WRMC! We are grateful for the work done by our Volunteers, and want to provide a rich and rewarding experience.

All volunteers will receive the following perks:

5. VOLUNTEER APPLICATION & DEADLINES

APPLICATION PROCESS

Applications will be reviewed after the submission deadline. There are no eligibility criteria such as a requirement to have attended in the past or particular volunteer skills. In 2024 more applications are anticipated than available positions, so please be sure to highlight all the skills and strengths you can bring to the team. Volunteers with previous conference volunteer or management experience, a solid understanding of the WRMC, or specific audiovisual, media, or photography skills can be particularly helpful. Be sure to make special notes and provide details of your skills and strengths. Individuals from nonprofit organizations or programs with a diversity, equity, and inclusion focus are encouraged to apply.

6. FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Q: Can I use this experience on my resume?
A: Yes, documentation of your participation is available. Volunteering with WRMC is an excellent opportunity to build your experience.

Q: How many volunteers will be on our team?
A: 10–15 people, so teamwork is an important component!

Q: Will volunteers receive a hotel discount?
A: Volunteers may receive the WRMC group hotel rate that is offered to all attendees. Volunteers book their own room, so it’s important to reserve before the discounted rooms sell out. If you need a roommate, this is a great pool of roomies.

Q: Is travel reimbursed?
A: Travel costs are not reimbursed.

Q: Do I have to be available for the full conference schedule?
A: Yes, generally. Commitment for the full conference schedule and the pre-conference volunteer meetings and communications is important. If you cannot be scheduled to volunteer during a specific portion of the conference, please notify wrmc@nols.edu as soon as possible.

Q: Can I network while on duty?
A: Yes, we encourage connections and encourage you to meet others in the industry.

Q: Do I have to be a previous volunteer or attendee to apply?
A: No prior requirements, just a willingness to bring your skills and talents.
Q: Who do I connect with for help?
A: It’s great to start with an email to the wrmc@nols.edu general email or call 307-335-2222.

Q: Can I apply for an Individual Scholarship and the Conference Volunteer Program?
A: Yes. You’ll need to submit an application to both programs before the deadline and then wait for notification. If you are selected for a Scholarship, because the Scholarship covers a full registration, it is likely the better choice for you.

Q: How many volunteers help with the WRMC?
A: There are over 100 helpers who donate their time to help produce the conference! Volunteers include 10–15 Steering Committee Members, 60–80 Presenters, and 10–15 Conference Volunteers like you.

Q: What happens if I find out later I’m unable to Volunteer?
A: We know life happens and that sometimes emergencies come up. If you can no longer volunteer, but can attend the conference, you will need to register at the then-current rate (e.g., if after the late fee goes into effect, your registration will include a late fee). If you can’t volunteer or attend due to an emergency or extenuating circumstances, please contact wrmc@nols.edu immediately. The standard cancellation policy and fees will apply.

Other questions? Email us at wrmc@nols.edu and we will get back to you as soon as possible.
